

Information & Application

The Philadelphia Jung Seminar

About the Seminar

The Philadelphia Jung Seminar is an in-depth educational program for those with a serious interest in studying the psychology of C. G. Jung. The content of the seminar is presented by certified Jungian analysts and varies from year to year. In addition to the Collected Works of C. G. Jung, seminar topics include the symbolic interpretation of dreams, fairy tales, literature, myths and contemporary culture as well as the clinical applications of Jung's theory and developments in Analytical Psychology since Jung.

The seminar is open to interested candidates from a wide variety of fields and can be the first step towards advanced Jungian analytical training for those in the helping professions. Applicants should be at least thirty years of age with a graduate degree. The seminar format is didactic and interactive, welcoming thoughtful discussion. It is not primarily experiential or process-oriented. Prospective seminar participants are required to be in or have been in Jungian analysis with a certified Jungian analyst for a minimum of 20 hours of analysis. An experience of personal analysis insures that each participant will have had an actual experience of Jung's approach to the psyche, so necessary to more deeply understanding his work.

The Director of Admissions, Steven A. Martin, PsyD, Jungian Analyst, welcomes inquiries about the seminar and questions about the application process (described briefly below). He may be contacted by email at drsamartin@gmail.com or by phone at 610-896-7536.

General Information

The Philadelphia Jung Seminar typically meets the second weekend of the month on Friday afternoon and Saturday for four months in the fall (Sept. – Dec.) and four months in the spring (Feb. – May). Friday seminar hours are 1:00 – 5:00; Saturday hours are 9:00 – noon and 1:00 - 4:00. Tuition is $2500 for the academic year, payable $1,250 per semester. The seminar meets at the Ethical Society Building, 1906 South Rittenhouse Square in Center City, Philadelphia.

Admission Process

Please submit the following to the Director of Admissions by June 1 (for admission to the fall semester or by November 1 (for admission to the spring semester).

1. A current resume or curriculum vitae.
2. A three-page essay describing your psychological development, professional history, and reasons for engaging in advanced Jungian study.
3. Be in, or have been in, Jungian analysis with a certified Jungian analyst. (This analyst is not involved in admission decision-making except to confirm the number of hours of analysis).
4. Notarized Agreement between the Philadelphia Association of Jungian Analysts and Philadelphia Jung Seminar Participants (next page).
5. A $250 check payable to PAJA for tuition deposit. If accepted into the seminar, this $250 is non-refundable (leaving a balance due of $1,000 for your initial semester). If not accepted into the seminar, the $250 will be returned.

Agreement

Between the Philadelphia Association of Jungian Analysts, Inc.

The Philadelphia Jung Seminar Participant

I understand that public education is the sole purpose of the Philadelphia Jung Seminar and I therefore will not receive any certification other than continuing education units. I may not represent myself as an analytic trainee, Jungian (psycho)therapist, analytic candidate or Jungian Analyst. Nor may I refer to the seminar as a source of advanced Jungian training for professional purposes. I agree to prepare for and attend all seminar sessions. If I cannot attend, I will notify the Director of the Seminar of my absence. I realize that (re)admission to the seminar is granted on an annual basis.

I understand and agree to the above statement.
